Bierhaus, Reighard Resign To Take Positions Elsewhere

Two MSTC faculty members, Mr. Frederick Bierhaus and Mr. Frank Reighard, have resigned from their positions at the college.

Frederick (Fritz) Bierhaus, MSTC football coach, has given his resignation effective immediately. Fritz, who has been football coach since 1949 until taking a sabbatical leave this year, is nearing completion of work for his Doctor's degree from the University of Colorado.

Bierhaus recently accepted a position as assistant professor in charge of administration of summer school recreation, including the mountain recreation program at the University of Colorado. During the academic year, he will teach in the School of Physical Education and act as an advisor to majors in that field.

His major field is physical education and his minors are social science and biological science.

Bierhaus attended the University of Minnesota his freshman year and then transferred to St. Cloud State Teachers College where he earned his BS degree in 1942. At St. Cloud he was named all-conference quarterback in 1940, 1941, and 1942; and was also selected for Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities.

Following graduation from college, Mr. Bierhaus entered the navy in 1943 where he was commander of a PT boat, division leader, and a recreation officer. Upon discharge from the navy, Fritz alternated between gaining his Master's degree and coaching at Morris, Minnesota, Omaha, Nebraska, and Stillwater, Minnesota.

Mr. Reighard, who joined the faculty last fall, has accepted the position of Industrial Management instructor at the University of Wisconsin. His resignation takes effect on May 12.

As Industrial Management instructor, Mr. Reighard will train foremen and supervisors from industries in the central United States who come to the university for four day training institutes.

Mr. Reighard was formerly employed at Stoughton, Wisconsin as an industrial arts instructor and as building inspector. During his year at MSTC he has been with the industrial arts department and devoted his time to the planning of buildings and grounds and as traffic coordinator.

He graduated from the Pennsylvania State College in 1948 with a Bachelor of Science Degree and received his Master's Degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1952.

Pres. Eisenhower Wins In Campus Straw Vote

President Dwight Eisenhower leads in campus political preference, according to a straw vote conducted among MSTC students and faculty members Monday. The balloting was relatively large, with 408 votes cast.

The proposition placed before voters was "if you were eligible and if you were voting today, for whom would you vote for president." All announced candidates were listed, and spaces were allowed for write-ins.

Eisenhower led all other single candidates with 177 votes, against his nearest competitor, Estes Kefauver, with 137. Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic candidate for the presidency, polled 51 votes.

Democratic voters also cast eight votes for Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey, seven for New York's Averill Harriman, three for Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson, two for Ohio governor Lausche, and one each for former president Harry Truman

Bookstore Sponsors Pep Song Contest

How would you like to earn fifty dollars? The Bookstore Board is sponsoring a song writing contest which is open to all MSTC students. They want a pep song which will be a supplement to "College Boy."

The rules for the contest are as follows:

1. The song must be original.
2. It must be singable.
3. It must have good range.
4. It must be scored for piano, with words.
5. The contest closes May 21, at 12:00 noon.

Fifty dollars will be awarded to the person whose song is chosen. The judges will have the right to reject any or all the entries. Judging the contest are Dr. Duane Harmon, Arthur Nix, and the Bookstore Board.

Tony Ludwig, Frank Schulz, Don Anderson, Jo Sater, Dr. Cater, Mrs. Grantham, Faye Waller, Ray Kavanagh, and Charles Thurber are the present members of the Bookstore Board.

A band arrangement will be paid for separately.

Songfest Acts Judged At Performance Tonight

Immediately following the final performance of the AE Songfest at Weld Hall auditorium tonight will be the judging of organizational variety acts and the presentation of awards. Tony Ludwig is chairman of arrangements, and curtain time is 8 p.m.

Permanent trophies will be awarded this year in place of the traveling trophies of previous years. Six acts are competing for the twelve minute trophy, while three acts vie for the best six minute act award.

Although they are not entering competition, the Alpha Epsilon fraternity provides the introductory narrative that sets the pace for the rest of the show with Cliff Strommen in charge.

Organizations and their Songfest representatives included in the 1956 vaudeville are Tau Chi Mu's six minute "Le Quartiers Latin" with Harriet Gohdes directing; Beta Chi sorority, "Road to Picasso," Nancy Granger; Psi Delta Kappa sorority, "Inspirations," Gennie Caspers; Owl fraternity, "Circus Family," Ron Kragness; Pi Mu Phi sorority, "Imagination Into Paradise," Chell Soeth.

An intermission precedes the last four acts. LSA presents a six-minute "Picasso's Blues" with Bonnie Kusatz directing; and Gloria Eia directs the Dragon Masquers "Je Ne L'aime Plus." In charge of the Newman Club act, "A New Look On Campus" is John Moriarity, while Norma Hoving of Gamma Nu sorority directs the final act, "Havoc In Heaven."

Gerald Warner and Cliff Strommen emcee the event and tickets are $.75 at the door.

Other AE's in charge of arrangements are Vern Kuhn, ushers; Jim Olson, programmes; Art Prior, concessions; Bob Schumacher, tickets; Bill Parries and Sandy DiBrito, lighting and staging; and Stan Riggs and Larry Kaiser, publicity.

The Songfest is an annual event sponsored by the Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The funds from the Songfest provide several scholarships for high ranking graduates of high schools in this area.

All those participating in the production and the acts of the Songfest are invited to a party which will be held at the Moorhead Country Club after tonight's performance.

Six Graduate During Winter

Six students graduated from Moorhead State Teacher's College at the end of the winter quarter. These students finished all requirements for graduation and will actually receive their diplomas in the June ceremony.

Marlys Olson, Henning, and Mary Jane Stranahan, Fargo, were elementary provisional graduates.

Charles Harwood, Moorhead; Ardis Lundell, Kennedy; Charles Knickerbocker, Frazee; Margaret Starkey, Mahanomen, were granted Bachelor of Science degrees.

MSTC's enrollment for spring quarter will top the 900 mark. It is estimated that there are 150 enrolled in evening courses, 726 in regular enrollment, and 29 in off-campus courses. The total, 905, is only an estimate and will probably be higher.

Classes Recess Friday, Apr. 27 As Faculties Meet In Bemidji

Classes will not be held on Friday, April 27 due to the Inter-Faculty Association Conference being held at Bemidji State Teachers College on Friday and Saturday, April 27-28.

Minnesota's Governor Orville L. Freeman will be the main speaker at the conference. Several sub-committee meetings will also be held to discuss the common problems of the state teachers colleges.

President of the MSTC faculty association is Dr. Earl Foreman. Elected representatives to attend this conference are Dr. Paul Heaton and Dr. Marlowe Wegner.

Meeting along with the faculty will be a State Teachers College Student Government Conference. Chairman and secretary of this conference are Bruce Reski and Francis Berkley, respectively.

Other commissioners, past and present, attending this conference are Donald Anderson, Ronald Miller, Phil Kieselbach, Delsie Charais, Be'te Reyes, June Johnson, Joan Fowler, Connie Battreall, and Ralph Burke.

Joan Fowler and Ronald Miller will lead one of the conference discussion groups on "Sororities and Fraternities" and Ralph Burke will lead the discussion on "Constitutions."

Draft Teachers To Solve Shortage

The following is quoted from an editorial by John Fischer, editor-in-chief of Harper's magazine. It outlines his latest scheme for the alleviation of the teacher shortage.

"It should not be impossible to work out a practical scheme for drafting women college graduates for a six-month course in basic training for teaching, plus eighteen months' service in the schools. Such a system would not, of course, produce first-rate teachers — but second-rate teachers are better than none at all. And, like the Army, the Teaching Draft boards presumably would select the best fitted girls and take only enough to fill a given quota. Moreover, a good many of the draftees might continue to teach voluntarily after their term is finished, thus gradually building up a reservoir of experienced talent.

"A lot of the girls wouldn't like the plan, of course. But then, young men rarely show unbridled enthusiasm for being drafted, either; yet they generally do their military service competently and with only a normal amount of grumbling. Isn't it insulting to suggest that women are any less patriotic?

"More violent objections might come from the mandarins of the teachers' colleges. Publicly, they would complain that the scheme would down-grade their professional standards. Privately, they would fight hard against anything which might loosen their present stranglehold of the teachers' colleges on our education system. But the only visible alternative seems to be forty pupils or more to a classroom — a degree of overcrowding which damages professional standards at least as much. In the end, the learned doctors probably would have to go along — or come up with a better idea."

This appears, to us, to be the usual short-sighted sort of solution that people are constantly making to improve our educational system. With an eye only to one phase of the problem, and ignoring completely the long-range concomitant results of such a solution, Mr. Fischer suggests we draft young women to serve as teachers.

Probably the most logical statement in the quoted portion of the Harper's editorial is the remark that these would be 'second-rate' teachers. Not only would the drafted teachers be 'second-rate,' but the profession would become a "second-rate" profession. As soon as the stigma of enforced service is attached, the individual desire to belong to that profession would be removed.

Despite Mr. Fischer's complimentary remarks, we have served in the United States Army, and anyone who has served as a draftee will verify our statement that no one does any more than he absolutely must in the Army. Draftees count the days until their separation; there seems to be no conceivable reason why women, be they ever so patriotic, should not follow a similar course. A teacher who looks forward only to the day when she can be released from her duties cannot benefit her students very much.

In a field so vitally important as education, (and Mr. Fischer, earlier in his editorial, agrees that the education of our youth is of utmost importance) we must have teachers who will put forth an honest, sincere effort to give our children the best that can be gotten in education. This cannot be attained by forcing young women to teach, even for an eighteen month period.

Not only should "teachers college mandarins" object to this sort of short-sighted solution to the teacher shortage; but every person who is or plans to become a part of the teaching profession should object. We do not have the panacea for the problem, but we not feel that the placing of a stigma upon the profession is the answer. Rather we would endeavor to remove the stigma that already rests upon the profession — monetary, social, and psychological.

In closing, we welcome comments from any of our readers on this editorial. We should like to hear your reactions to a situation in which we can see no possible merit, and a great deal of harm.

Representative Senior

Hoving Heads Organizations, Annual

by Barbara Eckles

"What a day!" exclaimed Norma Hoving, senior representative, as she took a ten-minute break from her whirlwind of campus activities. Always busy, Norma has "hurried" through her four years of college to keep ahead of the never-ending list of classroom and extra curricular assignments.

Until this winter, Norma's home was in Fargo, where she graduated from Central high school in 1952. Her parents moved to St. Paul, Minnesota in February, so Norma has been braving the winter blasts walking from her apartment three blocks south of the campus since that time.

Her junior year was the busiest for Norma, as she edited the 1955 Dragon annual, served as president of the Gamma Nu sorority and secretary-treasurer of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Norma has been on the dean's list since her freshman year, so participation in Band, Pep Club, being president of Off-Campus Women's Organization and Kappa Delta Pi, and one of MS's Who's Who Among Students in America has not affected her studies.

Because she has worked for Miss Jane Johnston at the campus high school as a stenographer during her free hours since spring quarter of a junior year, Norma has been teased about being a perpetual student teacher. Actually, she split her student teaching between fall and winter quarters of this year, teaching typing and bookkeeping in her major field of business education and advising the newspaper, annual, and declamation in her minor fields of journalism and English.

When asked what she liked to do in her spare time, she laughed — "What spare time?" "Blackie" as Norma is called by her friends, finally admitted that she enjoys a game of bridge at noon, or a tennis match in the gym. Sewing and knitting are her other hobbies.

Going to the ACP press convention in Washington, D. C. last year when she edited the yearbook was Norma's greatest thrill in college. She likes MS for its friendliness and reflected that she thinks the college has great promise of growth in the future.

Among her many other activities, Norma has helped with the college swimming program. Last quarter her zeal was dampened, however, as she lost her balance and fell from the edge of the pool into the water flat on her stomach while teaching a group of intermediate swimmers.

This summer Norma plans to give swimming another try as she teaches private lessons at Chevy Chase Inn on Puget Sound in Washington — a chance to relax before she begins teaching business education next fall in a Minnesota high school.

Twenty-Eight Assigned To Elementary Teaching

Bjornstad; fifth grade—Glenna Anderson, Doris Melcher, Mrs. Ruth Hagen, Rachel Briggs, sixth grade—Donald Bennet, Lillian Kempf, Mrs. Hazel Ebeltoft.

Students teaching at the Agassiz School at Fargo are Kindergarten, Janice Adkins; and second grade, Mrs. JoAnn Dalen Schliemann.

Commission Minutes

The Student Commission was called to order on Monday, April 16, at 6:40 p.m. in the Commission room by President Frank Leidenfrost. Those present were Mrs. Grantham, Joan Fowler, Ralph Burke, Jo Sater, June Johnson, Bette Reyes, Delsie Charais, Phil Kieselbach, Bruce Reski, Fran Berkley, and Frank Leidenfrost.

The secretary's minutes were read and corrected. Under old business, the commuter room was discussed. It was decided that Bruce and Frank meet during the noon hour on Tuesday, April 24, with commuting student to discuss up-keep of the room.

Wednesday, April 18, the Student Commission will meet with representatives from the Campus school in Ingleside at 10 a.m. for the purpose of discussing Campus Clean-Up Day.

Under new business, Jo Sater presented a request for $100 from Mr. Highlander to help cover expenses of the senior class play. This will be given further consideration at the next Commission meeting on April 23.

The Bemidji convention was discussed. Joan Fowler and Ron Miller will lead a discussion group on "Sororities and Fraternities"; Ralph Burke, "Constitutions." It was moved by Phil, seconded by Jim, and passed that $80 be appropriated for room and board for 15 persons, gas, and other expenses for the convention.

Homecoming Co-chairmen were voted on. Replies from the chairmen will be received on Monday.

Phil reported on the athletic committee meeting of April 12. It was decided that $25 be appropriated for athletic dues to NAIA. Since enrollment is greater, the $50 that had previously been appropriated was insufficient.

It was suggested that the Ballard Hall Council take action to repair their radio-phonograph for use at the social functions in Ballard.

Respectfully submitted,
June Johnson, secretary.

Goedel Sets 2 New Records In Concordia Indoor Meet

MSTC Track team scored 37.6 points against Concordia in an invitational indoor dual meet last Saturday at the Concordia Field House. This has been the most points scored against Concordia's tough track team in their own Field House. The Cobbers scored 66.4 points to win the meet, scoring heavily in the two mile, mile and 880 yard run.

Eugene Goedel, a freshman from Wadena, Minnesota, sprinted ahead to an early lead to set an indoor record at Concordia in the 440 yard dash; time 1.01.7. After winning the 440, he placed third in the 50 yard low hurdles. In the high jump, the last event of the day, he cleared the bar at 5 feet 8 inches to set a new record there. Goedel had a total of 11 points for the Dragons.

The only other Dragon trackster to gain a new record at the meet was Arthur Chard, who won the 50 yard dash, and in doing so tied the previous record of 5.6 seconds.

John Haugo placed first in the shot put with a heave of 40 feet ¾ inches, and Chuck Sloan followed him at 36 feet 6½ inches for second place. Shelly Gordon's broad jump of 19 feet 11½ inches was good for a first. Gordon also tied for second in the high jump along with Rufus Bankole and three Cobbers. Ron Oliphant vaulted 11 feet for a second in the pole vault, and Sherman Moe picked up a second in the 50 yard high hurdles. Bernard Voegel placed third in the two mile.

Out of four records set in the meet, Concordia only had one; that was set by Jacobson of Concordia in the mile run. His time was 5 minutes, 8.1 seconds.

SPORTS NOTES

by Dave Montplaisir

The really big news of the week is Fritz Bierhaus's resignation as football coach to accept a position with the University of Colorado. Mr. Bierhaus, who came here in 1949, compiled a 9-win, 14-loss, 1-tie record in conference play and a 20-win, 24-loss, 2-tie overall record. Fritz also helped coach the track team.

Concordia, which this spring held the first indoor track meet in the Fargo-Moorhead area, held its third dual meet of the year last Saturday in defeating MSTC 66.4 to 37.6.

Rufus Bankole, standing 5'4" tall, did some practice high jumping last Friday. After warming up with several jumps, he jumped 5'8". Jumping without shoes and using an unorthodox feet first style, it marked the first time anyone present had ever seen anyone jump better than his own height.

Norm Felde has been named to manage the Moorhead Chix of the Heart O'Lakes amateur baseball league for the second straight season. In the past the Chix have boasted such MS stars as Lowell Bolger, Ken Grabinski, and Don Betzen.

Two cars and the school bus full of WAA members will complete a WAA playday at Winona this Saturday. The girls will leave on Friday and plan to return on Sunday.

John Landy, the world's fastest miler, will make an appearance in the United States next month. Landy, who will compete for Australia in this year's Olympics, originally had not planned to visit the United States before the Olympics.

Nineteen Participate In WAA Playday

Nineteen MSTC women will participate in the annual college playday at Winona State Teachers College on Saturday, April 21.

Miss McKellar, WAA advisor will accompany the group.

This activity is an annual event that rotates to a different college each spring. All college women from each school in the state participate in the day-long athletic activities. A banquet is held in the evening to conclude the events.

Those who will be motoring to Winona for the weekend include Miss McKellar, Marcia Delger, Bette Reyes, Carol Hvidsten, Kathy Paul, Penny Kramer, DeLayne Riedberger, Mavis Kohler, Joanne Baugh, Gaye Duncan, Vivian Floberg, Grace Askew, Anna Varriano, Darlene and Delores Goodyear, Judy Henning, Francis Berkeley, Audrey DeMars, Janice Plonty, and Jo Sater.

Dragon Varsity Baseball Players Have Varied Outside Experience

A large number of the Dragon lettermen have had considerable experience in baseball outside of college play. Many of them have played for their home town teams and with other teams that needed talent on the diamond.

Lettermen playing class B ball last year are as follows: Jim Aageson, played short stop at Appleton; Dale Serum, caught for Halstad, while Darrel Hesby covered second base; Ken Grabinske and Glen Anderson both pitched for the Moorhead Chix along with pitcher Don Betzen, who also has played in class A with Hancock and semi-pro with Williston; John Chalfont also was with Williston behind the plate. Gordon Johnson was in the outfield at Underwood.

Lawrence Krabbenhoft pitched for Hancock and Morris in class A league, while the Little Falls Red Sox, a state tournament team since 1947, took third place in the state tournament behind the big bat of third baseman

Dick Zak.

The experiences of the non-lettermen reads about the same as the others. The Thompson brothers played for Hancock with John in the outfield and Dennis on the mound. Dick Heislor was in the outfield at Waubun, while Gene Klemp held down second base at Appleton. Lowell Bolger covered first base for the Chix, while Don Dulski did the same at Perham.

Jerry Melish, who caught for the F-M Twins has moved to the mound for the Dragons. Warren Archier covered second base at staples, while Ken Reitan played shortstop for Warroad. Jim Grant was a first-sacker at Graceville and Roman Gail was the brains behind the plate for Wheaton.

The Dragons will make their debut this year against the St. John's frosh April 25, while journeying to Mankato to play the Indians. The St. John's frosh will be met again on the return trip.

Owls Initiate

Second degree was held for the eggs of the Owl fraternity last Tuesday, April 17. The pledges gave a program for the active members at the campus high school auditorium, after which they received their Owl pins at a ceremony at Ingleside. A party at the Country Club followed for the new and old members and their dates.

The Owls have appointed a committee to start spring redecorating in the room. The chairman is Rod Kasisler, with Mike Lestina, DeWayne Kurpius, and Lew Johnson assisting him. New furniture is to be bought — a desk for the new father Owl and a new radio. Painting is also planned in line with the redecorations.
